

TARRAGON THEATRE Education & OutReach

"The most consistently reliable and artistically grounded theatre in Canada." – GLOBE & MAIL, 2006

Upcoming Youth Projects

The deadline is fast approaching for our upcoming youth projects – please share this information with your students, and get those application forms in!

Spring Training Project

Spend your March Break at Tarragon Theatre! 16-19 year-olds are invited to apply for the Spring Training Project. Professional theatre artists lead workshops in improv, voice and music, clown and movement, scene study, playwriting, and more. After March Break, the workshops will continue on Saturday afternoons until May, when the training will culminate in a final project – a performance at Tarragon's Spring Arts Fair at the end of May, 2007.

Young Playwrights Unit

Love playwriting? Working on your own play, and want some help? Spend your March Break at Tarragon with other 15-19 year-old writers in workshops led by a professional playwright. Participants will explore many styles of playwriting, and attend Tarragon Theatre productions for discussion. After March Break, the workshops will continue on Saturday afternoons until the first week of June.

The application deadline for Spring Training Project and Young Playwrights Unit is January 29, 2007.

Application forms can be found on our website:

Under 20 for Under 20s Playwriting Competition

Are you under 20 years old? Do you have a short play that's under 20 minutes in length? Submit it for the Under 20s Playwriting Competition. The winner will receive $250, and their play will receive a professional workshop reading at the Tarragon Spring Arts Fair in May 2007.

Plays must be submitted by January 29, 2007.
